

(i)

- a) True.
- b) True.
- c) True.
- d) False. Client-side scripts are restricted from arbitrarily accessing the local hardware and file system for security reason.

(ii)

- a) IPv6
- b) hyperlinks
- c) URL; web servers
- d) get; post
- e) bottom tier; middle tier; top tier
- f) Android

(iii)

Client-side programming is to build web pages and applications that are run on the client like the web browser in the user's device.

Server-side programming is to build applications that respond to requests from client-side.